Protecting Children from Sexual Exploitation

Sharing a Vision Protecting Our Children

Increasing numbers of Canadians will no longer tolerate the degrading effects of obscenity on their families, children, neighborhoods, and business districts. Pornography has a negative impact on men, children, women and the communities we live and work in.

Pornography proliferates with impunity into our homes, communities, and country.

Our Mission

C.A.S.E. exists to protect all children from sexual exploitation.

Our Vision

To Educate, Influence and Partner

Paul Gillespie and David Butt are actively engaged with the Kids' Internet Safety Alliance (KINSA). KINSA was established as an aggressive and proactive response to the negative aspects of the Internet that harm young people. While addressing this grave social problem, KINSA also acknowledges and celebrates the positive, creative and inspiring ways children and youth are using the Internet.

"The fight against child sexual abuse and the legislative changes needed to back it up will never succeed unless the public wakes up to the nightmare in its own backyard."

Canada Family Action Coalition (CFAC) was founded in early 1997 with a vision to see Judeo-Christian principles restored in Canada. CFAC is a grassroots citizen's action organization that provides strategies, networking, training and tools to enable ordinary Canadians to influence government, education, media, and culture.

CFAC brings together individuals, churches, businesses and other organizations to provide a unified thrust in promoting the Judeo-Christian worldview in Canadian society. We equip citizens to take back their rightful place as part of the decision-making process of our courts, tribunals, legislatures and Parliament. CFAC provides a voice for Canadians with common-sense principles, citizens who believe in direct democracy, and people with faith-based morality.

Non-partisan and non-denominational, CFAC is incorporated as a not-for-profit national corporation under the Canada Corporations Act. We are not able to register as a charity due to Revenue Canada regulations that do not permit organizations engaging in political action to issue charitable tax receipts.

NetSafeKids: A Resource for Concerned Parents

In 2002, the National Research Council of the National Academies released Youth, Pornography, and the Internet, a report on protecting children and teens from sexually explicit material and threats from sexual predators operating online. NetSafeKids is based on the important findings of this report. It provides practical information and tips on types and sources of sexually explicit content, ways that inappropriate material can reach children and teens, the threat of cyberstalking, the pros and cons of filtering and monitoring tools, and other issues involving Internet safety. NetSafeKids is an important step on the road to becoming an Internet-savvy parent who can make informed decisions and plan effective strategies that promote safe and enjoyable Internet experiences for children.
